Care

From Ashbury fundraisers like the Governor's Ball, student run initiatives like the 30 Hour Famine and Monte Carlo night to citywide events like the Ottawa race weekend, this year was filled with opportunities for students to get out and help others. Students dedicated their lunch hours to helping tutoring Inuit children at a local elementary school, volunteered at senior homes and blitzed around the Rockcliffe/Vanier community to raise money for the Canadian cancer society. At Christmas time, TAGS once again did not fail to fill hampers with food and presents for low-income families. Teachers also participated in the Dare to Remember Campaign for the Stephen Lewis Foundation- preforming hilarious dares and raising awareness for HIV/ AIDS in Africa. To recognize their involvement and acknowledge their hard work to make a difference, numerous students were awarded their bronze, silver, gold and platinum pins. Engaged Ashburians thought about other others and gave of themselves to improve the lives of others in their local and global community. Ashbury's community engagement program continues to thrive along side the IB CAS program and Duke of Edinburgh program.

Chapel

12 was a year of resounding success for the Ashbury Chapel, the apel Committee and The Reverend Beth Bretzlaff, who was in r first year as Chaplain. Beth brought a breath of fresh air to the apel program, and provided a safe place for students to come d voice their issues. Beth's ability to bring the best out of others serves recognition, and we thank her for all her hard work. In dition, Beth was backed up behind the scenes by an industrious mmittee of focused individuals that met once a month over nch, during which we had wide ranging discussions and sought improve the everyday workings of Chapel. These meetings ways ended up being more fun than they sounded - and the dication and contribution of each member was impressive. anks, friends, for making this year in Chapel both ethical and sponsible.

uncan Lurie, Chapel Prefect

ank you for such a warm welcome to Ashbury! My heartfelt preciation goes out to Duncan, who willingly took on the mantle Chapel Prefect with good humour, grace and enthusiasm. Each ember of the Chapel Committee has been very supportive, fered excellent constructive feedback, and worked hard to make r Chapel accessible, engaging and relevant. The Ashbury College apel is a beautiful, sacred space for all of us to enjoy, to share r stories and our souls, and in which to find a moment of peace. ay all of our voices be strengthened and blessed on the next steps our journey.

th Bretzlaff, Chaplain

HEADMASTER Mr. Tam Matthews

This 120th year of Ashbury College was marked by exceptional student leadership, staff dedication and impressive accomplishments. The school yearbook captures all this in 200 pages of photos and stories. Without the 10 month dedication o the yearbook team of page makers, photographers and staff advisors, we could not enjoy this colour record of our year together. We thank all the students involved together with Mrs. Rust and Mr. Reid.

Our School Captain, Surain Roberts, Maggie Zhu, President of the Student Council, the House Councils and the Junior School House Captains achieved their goal of raising school spirit. Monday assemblies showcased student and faculty talents and with Surain's creative games we enjoyed the unexpected. I thrive in my role to bring together the 680 students, 120 staff, 540 families and 4,000 contactable alumni around the world. We have much to be proud of and my wish i that this yearbook reminds you of the importance and value of every "voice" in the Ashbury family. Your "one voice" is tremendously important and when we all combine and unite to be "many voices" we create the positive energy of Ashbury Colt pride and equally a force for peace, justice and prosperity in our cluttered world. In a year of change in the Arab Spring, the Occupy Movement and the Quebec student protests against tuition fees increases let us use our voices wisely with goodness and empathy as Rev. Bretzlaff has done with her chapel program this year. I hope the Wailin' Jennys "One Voice" means something to you and that you will be driven to change the world and care for others.

Ashbury is at its best when we are alive with creativity in House Airbands, House Skits, International Day, the musical, Art Show, Musicfest, Willing Listener, Monte Carlo, Arts Night, residential food and fun nights and so many sports and clubs. Hopefully, this yearbook will capture these experiences and memories for a lifetime.

As a family school, it is difficult to say goodbye to retiring teachers. Alex Menzies (30 years), Peter Ostrom (19 years), Jan Matthews (11 years) and Donna Chan (4 years). Tim Putt leaves Ashbury after 11 years and all these talented individuals have left such a positive legacy in their areas of expertise and passion. We thank them and the 135 graduating students of 2012 for making Ashbury all that we enjoy today.

HEAD OF SENIOR SCHOOL
Mr. Tim Putt

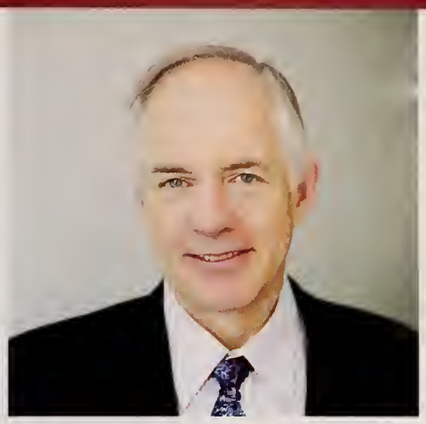

; my time at Ashbury concludes, I reflect upon eleven eat years and this wonderful final year of closure. I have rn many hats at Ashbury and enjoyed all them except aybe dealing with discipline. I am particularly proud helping to develop and implement programs that able staff to connect with students, including our tward Bound partnership for Grade 9 camp, the dership model and process and our Youth Mental alth policy. Working with the prefects this year has en fabulous, I cannot stress enough how great this up of student leaders has been and I am confident that xt years' prefects are up to the task. Of course change difficult for everyone and I am no exception, I will rely miss Ashbury College next year and will be leaving th a heavy heart. I am excited about my new portunity but regret that I will not see the people of hbury on a daily basis, for it is the staff, students and rents of Ashbury College that I will miss the most. hile authoring the next chapter of my life I will be tunate enough to return to Ashbury College on casion for work purposes and know that I will always ve the Ashbury ethos with me as I move on.

ASSISTANT HEADMASTER: ACADEMICS
Mr. Malcolm Mousseau

ASSISTANT HEADMASTER: DAILY LIFE
Mr. Peter Ostrom

It was as a student -teacher that I first came to Ashbury in 1979. Guided by Ray Anderson, the remarkably fit and loyal Ashbury pillar, I experienced Ashbury's unique place in Ottawa and the independent teaching world. I knew then that it was a place that I wanted to teach, but the opportunity would not come until the Macoun era three years later.

The school has always been a caring place. During first years I sensed the school was inhabited by some truly eccentric and odd characters, who provided much of the fodder for alumni stories reminiscing on their school with 'A Character of its Own'. Sadly, but ultimately for the better, these dubious and colourful characters have been replaced by the professional teacher, no less caring, but decidedly better equipped and able to support the needs of diversity of students who come our way.

Not only have I been very grateful for the chance to be part of Ashbury spanning 33 years, I had the most wonderful opportunity to work at 5 schools overseas during leaves of absence. Each school had a character of its own in its unique way and brought to my family and me and appreciation of the gifts Ashbury has to offer, and what the school could be as well.

As I move on to new opportunities, I wish to thank Heads Macoun, Napier and Matthews, who supported my professional career in so many ways, the school for providing my children the opportunity to graduate as Ashburians, my colleagues for making every day a pleasure, working together in students' best interest. Finally, thanks to the students whose energy, talent, idealism, and commitment have made every day unique, inspiring, and hopeful for the future.

The Ashbury Legacy (Learning from Failure)

In the movie Batman Begins (2005), my favourite scene involves the following exchange between Bruce Wayne (a.k.a. Batman) and Alfred Pennyworth as Wayne Manor is burning down:

'Bruce Wayne: What have I done, Alfred? Everything my family... my father built...
Alfred Pennyworth: The Wayne legacy is more than bricks and mortar, sir.
Bruce Wayne: I wanted to save Gotham, I failed
Alfred Pennyworth: Why do we fall sir? So we might learn to pick ourselves up Bruce Wayne: You still haven't given up on me?
Alfred Pennyworth: Never ".

During our annual School Closing ceremonies, as I read the names of our graduates and the names of the competitive post-secondary institutions who have offered them a place in their community, I think about all the obstacles and the struggles that these students have surmounted to get to this day: the detentions served, the multiple deadlines managed during "crunch times" each term, the classes missed that needed to be caught up and my personal favourite, the moment they realize that asking for extra help from their teachers does work. In my opinion, the Ashbury legacy is the sum of all of your Ashbury experiences - good or bad - that will remain with you wherever you go once you have left the school. I believe that the most important lessons learned are the ones where you learned from failure. In a recent Harvard Business Review article , Professor Amy Edmondson reinforces this concept by stating that the predominant mindset of today's successful business leaders is one that "…recognizes the inevitability of failure in today's complex work organizations. Those that catch, correct, and learn from failure before others do will succeed. Those that wallow in the blame game will not." (Amy Edmondson, "Strategies for Learning from Failure". Harvard Business Review, April 2011 (Vol. 89, #4, p. 48-55) Congratulations on a successful 2011-2012 year and keep learning from your failures!

School Captain
Surain Roberts

This was a phenomenal year for me and it has truly been an honour and a privilege to serve as Ashbury's School Captain for the 2011-2012 year.

I can say with confidence that I have enjoyed working with this year's prefect team. We all started the year full of enthusiasm with the intent of infecting everyone around us with good vibes. I am proud to say that when I look back on this year, we did just that. An event which meant a great deal to me was Movember because for me, it brought the grads together … even if it was to complain about our moustaches. I also had fun with the biweekly games and challenges – especially the barber shop quartets, moustache creative pieces and paper clip chains which ended up being long enough to make their way across the field multiple times. The free hugs after assembly and the random acts of kindness also brought smiles to our faces.

Thanks to the teachers, maintenance staff and administration for making this year possible. Thanks to all of the students for embracing me as your School Captain. There was never a moment when I felt as if you weren't supporting me with the best of intentions. Without you, this year could not have been so memorable. Finally, to all the friends I have made over the course of my time at Ashbury, I wish you the best in whatever you do.

Student Council President

very event is merely words on a page until the spirit of shbury brings it to life. This year, you launched off ideas ith zeal.

rom the exciting pep rally that came in the early days of eptember to the Glowdown dance at the end of May, it is eedless to say that it has been an exciting year. Classic vents such as the dances, Candygrams, Crêpefest and a andyland-themed Spirit Week were all a part of a year at also included the naming of our school mascot and hotos with Santa.

he leadership of your grade and boarding representatives, likey, Cole, Annie, Michael, Nick, Kyle, Quincy, Anusha, elis and Lyla produced frameworks on which your nthusiasm thrived. Ms. Marshall and Mr. Uko, our teacher upervisors, your guidance has been phenomenal. Thank ou also to the administration, parents, teachers, as well as ood services, IT and maintenance for your critical support.

With the vibrancy of Ashbury and its tendency to always surpass expectations, being this year's Student Council President was more than an honour, it has been a pleasure and joy. You, the students, have been both my motivation and my reward.

Next year, as the official body of Student Council is substituted in a more cohesive structure, keep its core elements of spirit and student voice alive. Foster the Ashbury spirit and be proud to be a Colt.

I've grown up knowing where I've wanted to go and what I've wanted to do in my life. A big thank-you goes out to the teachers, coaches and classmates who have helped me get closer to that. It's my friends though who have helped me become who I want to be. They are constantly patiently teaching me so much about being a good person by example and, at times, by their mistakes. I wouldn't be myself without them and I wouldn't have it any other way. I am so grateful for my girls and the wild times. I'm excited to move on to great things now having had four great years.
Now, let's go exploring.

9 years gone by, and it's now over. Through playing three sports year round since grade 9 and moving houses three times in four years, it's been wild. Big ups to all the coaches for making Ashbury sports such a big part of my life. I'll always remember the times hanging at RPPS, The F, the awesome adventures in Punta, Spain, Argentina, all the times up at Trembs, and so many more. It's been a fun ride, but time to move on to the next one. See you all on the other side.

In the closing months of my final year at Ashbury I've realized what this place has done for me to change my life. The last 6 years have shaped who I am now and will no doubt guide me throughout my life. However, all good things must come to an end. Friends, Teachers, Family, merci.

Well, time passes quickly. During weekdays, I would be waiting for weekends, and during weekends I would be waiting for holidays. Suddenly, Grade 12, my high school life comes to an end. Overall, grad year has been a wonderful year, a lot of challenges and I am now I feel like I am ready to move on to my next stage, university.
I would also like to take this chance and wish all Ashburians, strive for their best and be successful in the future.

Jevin Chang

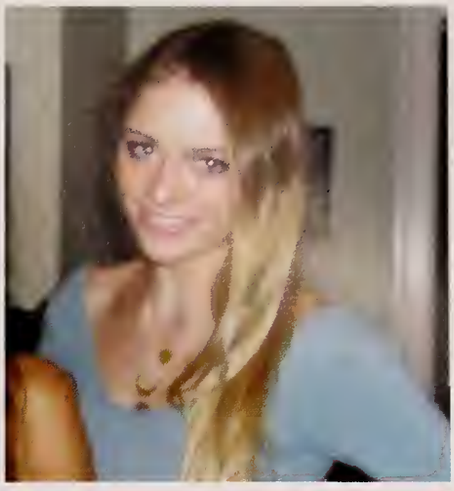

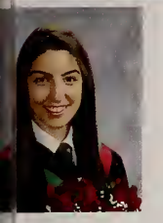

Oh dear family, friends, teachers, shawarma king, and others: I don't know if I would have been able to achieve stardom (graduation) without you, so here's an opulent thank you. Grant me a wish and don't forget me because there will always be a home for you to come back to in my heart. Now, I shall take flight so see you around.

It's been pleasure swimming among Canadian lands and drowning in personalities of those I met. I'll be missing those happy moments with everyone I love, and I'll be missing the smiles we all used to put on together! Thanks so much for being fun friends and thanks so much for being supportive teachers! I'm completely in love with all those absolutely fantastic days I've spent with you! And, Marlow, let's show them how the story ends!

Well, it's nice to know that I've made it thus far and hopefully I will keep on going. As Confucius once said "Our greatest glory is not in never falling, but in rising every time we fall". My past three years at Ashbury have been unbelievable. One could say that Don Williams Jr. was right when he said "The road of life twists and turns and no two directions are ever the same. Yet our lessons come from the journey, not the destination". Although the ultimate destination of graduating has been achieved, it was the everyday journey of sports, family, work and friends which truly made the experience. Thanks to all those who have made this journey possible and to those who's continuous love and support keeps me going!

Keith Hoddinott

Its been a long 6 years at Ashbury filled with highs and lows. To the football team, its been a great 4 years playing for you guys thanks to the coaches and players. To my family, thanks for the countless support year after year. To all my friends, thanks for making high school bearable, these have been the best 4 years of my life thanks to you guys. Live on Keith the Colt, I'm out.

Myriam Jebal

I've spent almost 20% of my life at Ashbury which has been a pretty significant chapter in my life which is now coming to end. It's been great but it's time to move on but not without saying thank you to some pretty great people. I want to thank Allah, papa, mama for helping to guide me and NJ, ZJ, SO, SS, CVP for adding some crazy to my life. Love you guys so much! Ashbury, see you in 25 years!

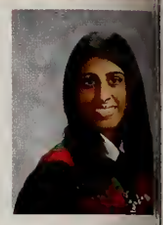

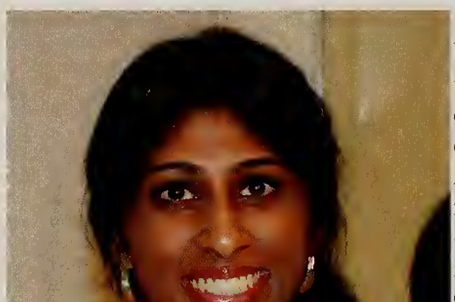

Léo Kadota

When I first came to Ashbury, I was nine. For every new candle on my birthday cake since then, I can attach life-changing memories, new friends and new passions. I can now recite the school hymn by heart and so I know it's time to leave, but it's going to be hard to leave something that's been so familiar to me for half my life. This year, I dedicate my 18th candle to you, Ashbury, and all the experiences that you'll let me bring wherever I'll go next.

School has been an opportunity to take on challenges – to learn what is beyond the scope of syllabi and to solve more difficult problems – which has given me an intellectual vitality. I aspire to take risks, innovate and create, through hard work, for my own sake, by building off my base of scholastic experiences. My drive is to pioneer – airing off the large cornice and delving into the untracked powder below. How else can one ascribe purpose? Best to the class of 2012!

Wow! 2 years? Time flies. Boarding at Ashbury has truly been a wonderful experience and for that, I have to thank my parents for giving me this great opportunity. To my dear friends, especially you, Tim Fong thanks for being here and the support you have given me. Never going to forget the memories created here in Ashbury. And now I let the music play on beckoning the next chapter of my life. xDD

I am a boarder
What I have learnt after 3 yrs in boarding. I learnt how to do laundry, clean my room, sign-in, eat pizza almost every day and suffer from the demerits to be not gated. I have been gated once since grade 10, just sayin LOL. The reason being, I was 3min late for curfew (quite a strict rules eh?). And I can tell that if you are considering becoming a boarder, your life will pretty much have exactly same days of sign-in, school, sign-in, study and sign-in. You will see the dons more than you do with your parents in one year. So spend more times with your parents if you can, before you come back to res.
P.S. Thank you to all the teachers who helped and made me prepare for my future.

I've been in Ashbury since grade 11, mainly because of the full IB diploma. Throughout the two years I have spent here, I have had hard times but also good times. The boarding experience has been amazing, and I have made close friends from many different places around the world. I have also been able to grow as an individual, and become more responsible and aware of not only academic responsibilities, but also real life situations.

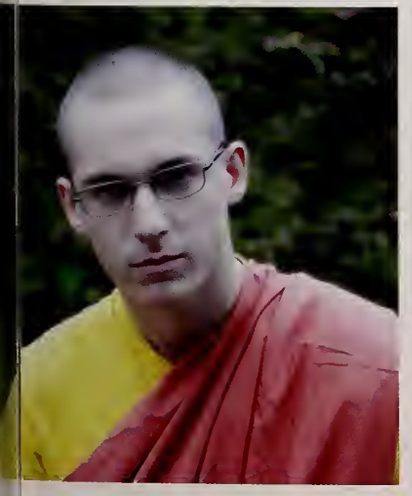

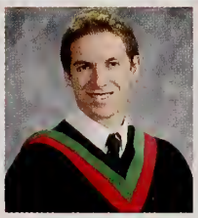

Alex Martinborough

These two years at Ashbury have been amazing. Thanks to everyone that made the residence and Ashbury so fun! The Residential Staff members, especially Mr. Lamont, Mr. Hall, Mr. Lavergne and Mr. Bailey and my amazing TAG teacher Madame Mitra. Also, thanks to my friends, who made the transition to a new school easy. Also thanks to the baseball coaches, especially Mr. Greig for making it so fun to play for the team.

Well then...that was interesting. To pictures and Happy Thoughts that are still hilarious. To running myself into the mud with the boys on the field. To the things I've always done and the things I thought I'd never do. To old friends and new ones. To the people I'll never forget. To those who led me to great ideas, and more importantly those who laughed with me during horrible ones.

Mrs. Jowett, I would never have thought a teacher could teach someone how to be oneself, and to do it with what seemed to be such ease is something that never ceased to amaze me in the two years I was lucky enough to be in your class. Also, to Mr. Boulet. Everything you did, the way you lived life, it was all an inspiration to me. To me you were an example of success, success that one day I hope to be able to achieve. My life at this school and outside of it was changed by everyone I encountered. My family and friends, in you I find my meaning.

Why do you exist? Nobody knows, life is a mystery. Don't spend your time on this giant rock living out someone else's idea of what your life should be. The only way to find satisfaction in life is to chase your passions, this is the only way to truly be successful. Don't always believe what an authority figure says, because chances are they don't have a clue. A wise man (Albert Einstein) once said, "Imagination is more important than knowledge" no matter your grades, remember this. Ideas are what change the world, you are mortal so don't have fear of failure or judgement dreamers change the world.

One milestone found, thousands more to be discovered; AC will definitely be missed, reality however will set in with a new twist; flowing towards our predestined fate, as our future awaits; some will set the world ablaze, others will become strays but eventually we will meet up again. Dad, mom; thanks for being there for me these past eighteen years. To the GIRLS: thank you for touching my life and always being there for me. A time full of challenges, lessons learned, and laughs. It's tough saying goodbye to my supportive teachers and friends, but now my journey extends. Every opportunity has shaped who I am, whether it was a game, performance or bio test; I'm going to study in advance instead of cram. I'm grateful for my family for their support, especially to my brother for making me laugh. Finally to my friends, high school has passed, but I can assure you that our memories will last.

I have learned so much in my time at Ashbury, but when the years have passed it won't be what I learned in physics that sticks with me. I will remember all the amazing relationships I have made with people and all the great times we have shared. I have learned that friendship extends beyond the boundaries of Facebook and becomes a bond that I hope will last a lifetime. Ashbury has been a very special part of my life and I will always cherish the time I spent here.

To all the influential teachers, people, students and friends, I'd like to say thank you for an amazing 6 years. While I'm probably never going to have to use Logs or ever use half the things I learned in real life, the people were amazing and I learned a lot of cool things. Shout out to the boys for keeping school fun and entertaining; hope to see you soon when we're all handsome and rich. Thanks for the memories.

Matthew Satterthwait

Switching schools in high school is always pretty hard. Thanks to all of you who made it easy to get adjusted to the school and who made my 2 years here memorable. I'll never forget the great times spent in class and out on the field. From the loss in the CAIS final, to our 2011 city title, I definitely had some unforgettable moments as a Colt. Next gen: make beater Wednesday a tradition!

What would I have done without all my great friends? Thanks for making my high school experience. AK, MA, SW, all the time we spent being obnoxious, laughing and having fun no matter what has been some of the best times of high school. Peace out Diva$!

Seven years at Ashbury have flown by, and it's sad to see it come to an end. I can't thank my family enough, for the sacrifices they make to give me these opportunities. For my friends; we've laughed and smiled together, been there for each other in dire moments, and shared memories that won't be soon forgotten. It doesn't matter where we end up, as long as we remember where we came from.

These past four years at Ashbury have been four of my best! From early morning music to late night homework, school has definitely kept me busy and I have enjoyed every moment . I'd like to thank my parents and brothers for supporting me, my teachers for all their hard work, and my amazing friends for keeping me sane. Without you guys, this journey wouldn't have been half as enjoyable, but you know what they say, when one door closes, another one opens. I look forward to all the opportunities that lie ahead, but will never forget the memories created here!

Only two words could truly express my feeling to Ashbury, my dear parents, lovely friends Torie, Jenny, Sophie and all the teachers "Thank you!!!!!!" Without your support , I would never come to here and become who I am now. Say To Myself: " Ernest Hemingway once wrote, "The world is a fine place and worth fighting for." My journey at Ashbury College has been an interesting one and for that, a special thanks to my parents for giving me such an opportunity. While schooling in Nigeria, I was always a day student and had never lived away from my family and so living in a residence miles away from my home proved a challenge in the beginning. Fortunately, as time went by and with the help of Madame Mitra and the rest of the boarding staff who were always ready to assist me in any areas of difficulty, I was able to adapt and fully adjust to my new environment. Also, a special thanks to Mr Bailey and Mr Beedell who always saw my potential and therefor never gave up on me.

Thank you to all who have made my high school years outstanding and memorable. I will always remember the good and the bad times, the ones who would stick by me through my worst and my best. I have learned so much in these past four years, academically but also life lessons that I will keep with me forever. But it's time for me to leave to explore a whole other world, and I'm exited but frightened, however the memories and lessons that I have learned here will never be forgotten.

In 2010, I gave up the Bahamian for Canadian winter. Attending Boarding School and completing IB is an experience I will never forget, I can now run off of 4 hours of sleep, handle outrageous amounts of caffeine, and of course I developed a hard work ethic. I would like to thank my buddies for always being there for me when I was crashing Pita Pit with a balance of $1.00 in my bank account or about to drop from the pressures of IB and my parents for giving me this opportunity. Good luck to the class of 2012!

Little Grade 9 me, unaware of how I'd come to love Ashbury. The school, its students and its staff, gave me what I needed, sometimes a lesson, sometimes a laugh. "Thank you" is inadequate to my family, my teachers and each friend. No words are enough for the meaning I intend. From stress and embarrassment rose confidence and memories that I will never let go. Without a wisp of regret, I say goodbye to what I know, happy to soon say a new hello.

Depth in the face of adversity… such was the story of the 2011 Ashbury Colts. As the team transitioned to a new, more competitive league, there were challenges at every turn – weekend games; long bus rides to Toronto; games against schools with upwards of 1000 boys; and countless personnel losses. Despite these challenges, however, the Colts competed – pulling off a win in a 28-21 overtime thriller against Villanova, and coming within a hair of earning a playoff spot. The players would like to thank the coaches, who put in countless hours of work through the season. Special mention goes to Coach Smith, who was instrumental in the league switch and eats and breaths football all through the year. The support of the "A Club" and the entire Ashbury community was phenomenal, as the Saturday home games drew huge crowds of supporters. Special fundraisers led to the purchase of new film equipment that will support the Colts through time. Though the season did not go entirely as planned, it is hoped that the 2011 Ashbury Colts are remembered not as a team that went 1-4, but as a team that began a new chapter for the Ashbury football program. This season the Ashbury Junior Colts lead by captains: Adam Guarisco, Michael O'Connor, Spencer Coyne, Mattias Lightstone, John Rikhtegar, Drax Lindgren and Ben MacArthur finished the regular season with perfect record of 5 and 0. This recorded allowed the Junior Team to finish 1st in the CISAA league. The Junior Colts defeated a tough Villanova squad in the Semi-Finals and then hosted newly developed rival Saint Michael's College in the Final. In a hard fought game the Junior Colts displayed tremendous teamwork and were crowned Champions of the Canadian Independent School Junior Football League.

This edition of the Junior Football team was comprised of a dynamic offensive group complemented by a tough, fast and hard hitting defense. The team which was made up of player's grade 8, 9 and 10 age was lead by a solid group of captains and all the players showed great commitment and dedication throughout the season. The players should be commended for their efforts and for continuing the great tradition of Junior Football at Ashbury. The team looks forward to defending its championship next season. See you on the field.

Senior Girls' Basketball

The Senior Girls basketball team played a 20 game season and posted a 4-16 record. In order for the team to have had a chance to qualify for "A" OFSAA, the girls had to play in the most competitive division which meant that Ashbury competed against a lot of AAA and AAAA schools. As well, the team participated in tournaments in Sudbury, Brockville and Richmond. Ashbury was defeated by Elmwood in the A Final. There were a lot of close games which was the result of hard work and commitment throughout the season. The team consisted of graduating captains Katrine Lightstone and Sonya Ardley. Also graduating are Catherine Bobiash, Ruth Arnett, Quincy Batson, Charlotte Connolly.

The junior girls basketball team had a successful season, starting 4-0 in league play and qualifying for Tier 1. After winning 5 games in Tier 1, the girls faced their first loss of the season against St. Pius, leading into playoff games. After a successful first round playoff game, we came up short in the quarter-final against Sacred Heart (City Champions). During the season, we had the opportunity to play in two tournaments here in Ottawa – Woodroffe and Ridgemont. Taking second at Woodroffe and winning bronze at Ridgemont, we were very proud of the girls' performances! Throughout the season, the girls were always in good spirit, cheering each other on and always giving the opponent a good game. Showing great improvement as a whole, the team represented Ashbury College very well. To cap off the season, Sarah Smith and Priya Muradia represented Ashbury in the All-Star game. It was a pleasure to coach these girls. We wish the veterans a great season with the senior team next year and we hope to see the grade 9s come back for another season.

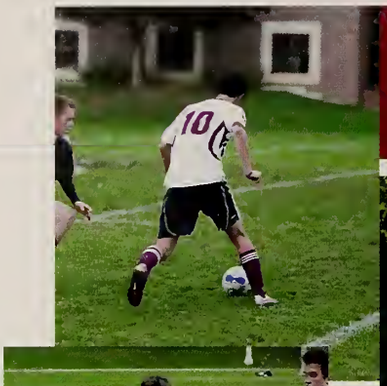

Senior Boys' Soccer

Back Row: Coach Tayler, Caleb Mousseau, Kevin Vuckovic, Ryan Bane, Andres Diaz, Marius Begaud, Matthew Satterthwaite, Jonah Nadler, Joe Wright, Tomoki Suzuki, Olivier Morisette, Charles St. Lou

The Senior Boys' Soccer team had a fairly successful season this Fall. They began with immense confidence by going undefeated in their first 5 games in the league. This was followed with an exceptional tournament at SEAL where the team reached their second consecutive Championship Game. Ashbury had not made it this far in the competition in decades, so to make it there twice in a row is certainly impressive. Although they won silver in a shootout against an incredibly strong UCC team, this strong result was achieved with only one returning player from last year's championship team. This Silver medal run was a fantastic example of teamwork and perseverance against tough competition. The 2nd half of the league season saw many key players injured and a loss in the play-off quarter-finals. The team played hard, learned a great deal throughout the season, and are looking forward to building on this success next year.

This year's Junior Boys Soccer team was a great success. A very strong line up of very talented and dedicated players was backed up by a group of substitutes who could step in anytime, anywhere. The boys got off to a great start with a win over the defending champions, St. Pius. However, due to roster issues the game had to be forfeited. The team bounced back with two great wins to show that the game was no fluke. The regular season ended with a 4-3 record. The highlight was the game against Nepean with a playoff spot up for grabs. With 3 goals in the last 5 minutes, it was a very intense finish. In the preliminary playoff round, the team came up against a strong Colonel By team. Despite conceding first, the team managed to recover. Sadly, the game ended in a disappointing finish when the game was lost in overtime. There was a great team atmosphere from the long bus rides to the team song "Chuis beau". A big thanks to Coach Lamont and Coach Greig for a very successful year. Good luck to all the players moving up to Senior and the returning Juniors next year.

This season held many firsts for the girl's Field Hockey team. It was the first season they travelled to Toronto to experience better competition early in the fall. They also played most of their league games at Minto field on the turf, as the International game has moved away from grass. It was also their first time earning a spot in the City Final, after a surprise upset of powerhouse John McRae. Nepean, the only team to beat them during the season, defeated Ashbury in this final in sudden death overtime despite two goals from captain Steph Black, which had the Colts leading both halves for most of the game. Despite losing the city Final, the girls qualified to enter the OFSAA tournament in Markham. Again, it was Ashbury's first showing since the program started 10 years ago at the provincial Championships. An unlucky draw into a difficult pool made for a challenging tournament, but the experience and exposure to a high caliber of play benefitted the younger players. First year graduating goalie, Meredith Allen had a superb showing at OFSAA, as did new grade 11 player, Isabel Kerrebijn. The team will miss the leadership and skill of graduates Charlotte Dunlap (capt), Steph Black (capt), Mary-Liz Power, Hayley MacLeay, Meredith Allen and Isabelle Baxter.

The 2011 Fall XC season is going to be a memorable one for the team; our pinnacle event of the season has been the City Championships, but this year we have moved on to view the OFSAA championships as our pinnacle event. The midget girls team consisted of 3 dedicated members who were motivated to recruit a 4th team mate part way through the season and they were able to place second in their East Conference Meet. Our midget boys were not able to field a full team this season - due to injuries, but they ran valiantly in their qualifying and conference meets. The smallest division is our Junior girls team - a two person team, competing at the city finals individually and showed a lot of spirit, sprinting up each hill and 'working' the finish. The junior boys team pushed their way through a challenging field of mature runners in the city finals. All three of the junior boys are new to the sport of XC running, but have definitely caught the bug and were excellent positive role models and team supporters. The senior girls are our biggest team, comprising of a combination of veteran racers and new comers to the sport. In the city final race, every member of the senior girls team was aware of their task - not just to race as hard as possible, but to pass as many other shirts as possible. They pulled through and advanced from the City Finals to the OFSAA final meet. The senior boys had an excellent vibe this year. As always, the senior boys category is phenomenally competitive; our region has the OFSAA senior boys champion, and a host of racers eager to take his spot. The 6 man team pushed to the limit individually and finished the grueling race of 7 formidable hills with grit and determination.

The Fall 2011 Tennis season at Ashbury was a great success. W so many interested and talented players, it was hard to cho a team! But thanks to a new format in the league the school w able to have more players than ever before, and deservedly Our Junior and Senior teams braved the chilly afternoons practice their serves, smashes and game strategy. Everyo worked hard to gear up for our two big tournament days, h at the Ottawa Tennis & Lawn Bowling Club on Wednesd October 5th 2011 and at the Rideau Tennis Club on Wednesd October 19th 2011. We competed against a dozen or so ot schools, and outperformed them all winning 51 out of matches, and 244 out of 312 games. Unsurprisingly, 7 of Junior players made it to the Junior City Championships wh were held at the RTC on Wednesday November 2nd 2011, un the bubble. Ashbury brought home 5 silver medals, 2 gold, an the trophy for most matches won in the league!! 5 of our Sen team members will be competing in the Senior Championships in the Spring of 2012.

Swimming

The team welcomed a new assistant coach Ms. Chrolavicius. Once again, Ashbury proved to be quite competitive at a series of mini-meets in October and November, highlighting all of our new swimmers racing for the first time. The City Championships in December were very successful. We had numerous swimmers who made the finals in all categories. Of note, Sepand Alavifard won Gold in the Novice Boys 50 m breaststroke and Blanca Candel won Silver in the Novice Girls 50 m breaststroke. Additionally, Emily Groper won Gold in both the Junior Girls 50 m breaststroke and 50 m backstroke and Melis Kirikoglu won Silver in the Junior Girls 50 m butterfly. Overall, Ashbury came 5th in the city, an excellent result for the team. The coaches were exceptionally proud of these girls and of the entire team for being involved in such a successful and enjoyable season. Thank you Mrs. Groper for your superb coaching!

Junior Boys' Basketball

nior Boys basketball team had another sful season, very similar to last year. ting of four returning players emented by a crop of dedicated rookies, the qualified for Tier 1, repeated as champions Merivale tournament, and again clinched lace in the East division, courtesy of two road wins to close out the regular season. n opening-round play-off win, our season o a close in the conference semi-final against not Immaculata team that went on to win ty championship. Mike O'Connor again ented Ashbury in the All-Star Game. Best k to the players moving on to the senior m.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Chan, the seven members on the2011 Ashbury Golf Team had a great time this year. Our practice consisted of visiting the driving range once a week, in addition to playing 9 holes on the par-three course at the White Sands golf course in Orleans. Five of us took part at the NCSSAA division qualifiers, in hopes advancing to the regional championships and then compete at the provincials. Unfortunately, U.K. and Colin Malone missed the NCSSAA championships by one stroke, after scoring an incredible 79. Ping went moved on to play at the OFSAA tournament. Overall, it was a great year where all of us competed and improved. We also want to thank Mr. Pulham and Ms. Richard for their help.

The Junior Volleyball Team started its season with 12 rookies amongst its 14 athletes, including 9 grade 9's. In spite of their lack of experience they were able to offer up a competitive level of play in both tournaments and league matches due to their dedicated nature, hard work and sparkling personalities. Good luck to graduating players Sam Buchanan, Suzanne Geerts, Polina Pyatakhina, Sabrina Alsaffar and Natasha Molnar as they graduate to the senior team. We look forward to an experienced squad returning next year.

nior boys' volleyball team this year consisted of talented and athletic players from grades 9, 10, d 1. The Sr. Boy's Basketball team had a great season. Quoted by player Benji Oppenheimer as being a, "ragtag bunch of young men who play with the fearsome aggression of lions", the underdog Colt squad had a surprisingly successful season, finishing second in Ottawa in the 'A' OFSSA division. Although basketball experience ran a little thin in this bunch, we hustled hard in every game and were known throughout the league as being a tough, energetic team. A fun season culminated in a successful trip to Greece where we finished with a winning record and some solid face tans! Thanks go out to Coaches MacKinnon, Lavergne and "Big'" Black for a fantastic final year of high school basketball.

With the lofty goal of an OFSAA championship in mind the Ashbury Hockey team was bursting at the seams with potential. In the end we fell short of this goal, losing in the NCSSAA finals to Garneau but the team still has much to be proud of. We finished the regular season undefeated, outscoring our opposition by a 61-13 margin. We were also fortunate enough to attend the MacPherson hockey tournament at St Andrew's College; a tournament that features the best school hockey teams in Ontario as well as some American prep schools. In addition to gaining valuable experience, we were successful in beating the defending OFSAA champion, Appleby College, in a shootout. The team also proudly supported the D.I.F.D campaign with patches and purple laces, making the season even more meaningful. Although our unfortunate deviation from the season's plans has left a bitter taste for many team members, the seniors in particular, we still achieved the most important thing, a great time playing the game we love! For this, we have Coaches Moore, Pulham and Black to thank. To the seniors, Jeremy Acland, John Biewald, Tim Campanale, Kelly Denison, Keith Hoddinott, Ethan Sanders, Brandon Sardelis and Dylan Si, thanks for your hard work and dedication and to the returning players, keep the tradition alive!

With a largely new and youthful team, e really hit the hills with a lot of energy a excitement this year. These new fa s brought a great deal of talent and what ll certainly be a bright future for our team. l s year we saw a strong silver finish in Gi t Slalom from the level 1 boys team at e NCSSAA championships, and we are ll excited to see how the team progresses in e coming years. A huge thank you to all e staff and coaches who came out to supp t our team, and farewell to our graduat g skiers, William Nippard and Philip Wo Have a great summer everyone, and we h e to see you all back next year!

Nordic Skiing

This was a year for new recruits to the Nordic Ski Team with Saman Akhavan, Brendan Lucas, Colin Malone, and James Yateman representing Ashbury in the Novice Boys category at the NCSSAA races and Mikela Govig in the Novice Girls category. All showed determination while racing and million-dollar smiles of satisfaction afterwards. On the demanding trails of Nakkertok Ski Club our top results were produced by Mikela, who placed 2nd in her category, and Colin, who skied to an 11th-place finish. Over the season each skier's personality revealed itself: Brendan and James are explorers at heart (finding novel ways to get up hills), Saman is persistent (keen to try unique ways to get down hills), while Colin is the quietly determined sort and Mikela has a focused instinct to succeed. Nordic Skiing is reputed to be the most aerobically demanding sport and one great aspect of this activity is that you can steadily and impressively improve with dedicated training. Exploring the trails of Nakkertok, team members started making plans to work on fitness over the summer and next fall, and they started to dream. We will see next season where they go!

This season marked the first with a full junior program running concurrently with a varsity squad. The two teams' combined season record was 30-1-0 with the team's only loss coming in the AAA/AAAA OFSAA gold medal match. The girls started their undefeated season in BC and ended it with an outstanding performance at OFSAA. I would like to commend the graduates for their hard work, passion and commitment to the program. The Senior Boys' Rugby team had a very successful season, going undefeated and scoring a record number of points during NCSSAA league play. The team had a record of 17-3, losing three close games to some of the top ranked teams in the province, including a heartbreaking loss to undefeated, and eventual OFSAA champions, Brock High School- 10-8. This year there was greater parody than ever in A/AA High School rugby and Ashbury definitely proved they are one of the top teams in the province. Although the team may not have had as much success at CAIS and OFSAA as past teams, it is arguably the strongest team that Ashbury has ever fielded and the boys should be proud of all their accomplishments, especially reaching the finals of the Belleville Centennial Tournament.

This rugby season has once again shown that rugby at Ashbury has become a tradition and a dynasty, as we had 57 boys on the junior rugby team. It has been an eventful, exciting and hard working season which started right after March Break. From our pre-season games, league games and playoff games, the boys played hard and improved a great deal along the way. This team was a special one who put up incredible numbers throughout the season, most notably, winning our 5th consecutive championship title in a league of 24 teams! But what I'm most proud of is how the team accomplished all of this - playing with class, dignity, respect, hard work and genuine love for the game. Congratulations once again to all the players and now begins the "fix for six"!

Rowing

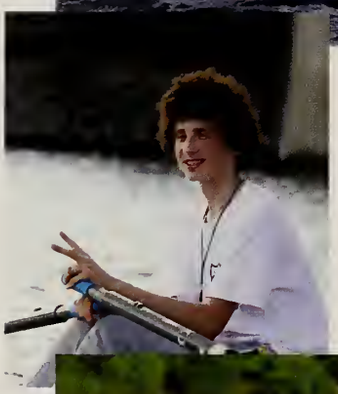

Ashbury rowing enjoyed another successful year. In the fall, twenty-four rowers participated in the Ottawa Rowing Club development program, which allowed each athlete to reach their potential in a crew of similar ability. In the spring, we kicked off the season with indoor training on the "ergs". Thanks to an early thaw, we were rowing on the Ottawa River at the end of April. With a smaller, dedicated crew of ten we trained hard in preparation for the Ottawa High School regatta on May 26. The Ashbury crew had a strong performance at the regatta due to the contributions of all team members. The coaches would like to thank all the rowers, and encourage them to get back on the river in the coming fall for what promises to be another great season.

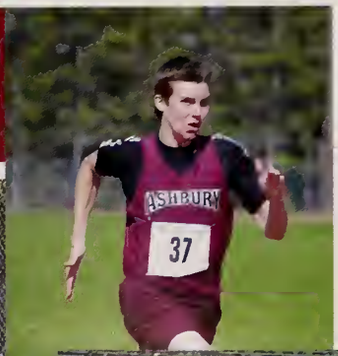

Track and Field

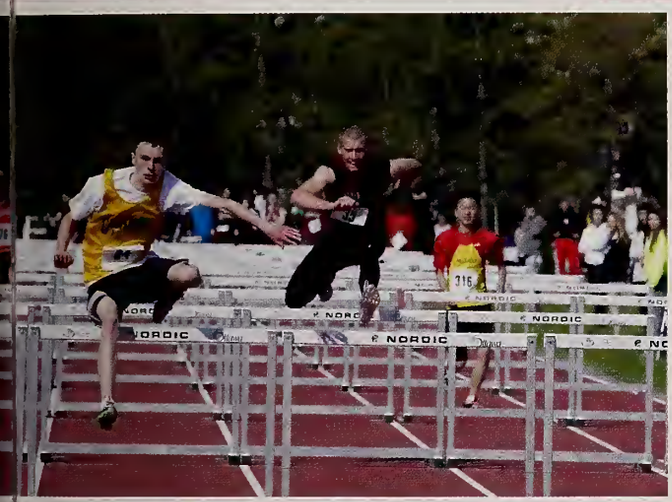

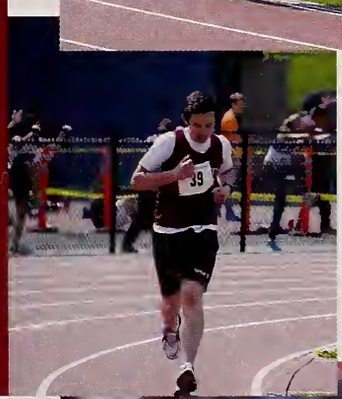

Another fabulous year for the Ashbury Track & Field Team. The addition of our fabulous parents in the A Club made a huge difference at the meets. The senior girls broke their own record in the 4 x 100m at City Championships and Fiyin (the "flash") won a bronze medal in 300m hurdles at OFSAA. Tori (snowflake #4) won the antique bronze in the 200m at OFSAA. We had many outstanding results and numerous personal bests. Throwers made impressive showings all the way through to OFSAA Regionals as did our jumpers. We had 8 athletes advance to OFSAA in Brockville (Mikey, Fiyin, Shannon, Julie, Madeline W., Tori, Emily and Lindsay). Next season is looking very promising. We say goodbye to some fabulous graduating athletes who will be missed: Jeremy A., Jacqueline G., Caleb M., Michelle R., Lyla S. Shannon W. and Madeline W.

The Varsity girls soccer team was a major underdog, with 12 girls having graduated last year, it left a lot of room for new members who we were delighted to have as part of the team. The seniors and experienced players guided these rookies throughout the season, and carried the team through some tough games. We finished with 2 ties 3 losses and 1 win. Everyone improved so much every game that in our very last game we tied the number-one ranked team. We were fortunate to have an amazing goaltender and some great leaders on the team. But I have to say, our greatest strength was everyone's willingness to play where we asked them to and always give their best! We are very proud of the girls and what they accomplished this season!

4 regular season games, two against St. Pete's, set us up for a playoff run that started with a victory against St. Pete's. We lost in the Quarter-finals to Carine Wilson 3-1. With the addition to the Colts baseball family of Coach Larry Belanger, head coach of the University of Ottawa baseball team, we had a great season. We are saying goodbye to many key players to University and we wish them all the best.

The inaugural Girl's Touch Football Team was a great success this year! With the help of offensive Coach Duncan Lurie, defensive Coach Adam Elgazzar, and head Coach Dwayne Smith, this amazing group of girls was able to make it to the quarter finals! The beginning of the season was tough, as very few girls had experience in the sport however with each practice and game, the level of improvement shown by the team was exceptional. As the season went on, the intensity within the group heightened and the girls worked collectively as a unit to succeed. The Ashbury Girls Touch Football Team will from this year on be a force to be reckoned with! GO COLTS GO!!!

World Affairs

ld affairs club has mirrored both our school, and our world at it has been particularly eventful. In February, 14 World tudents attended the annual World Affairs Conference held r Canada College in Toronto, Ontario where they met Marc , keynote speaker and the first Canadian in space. They also om David Miller, the former mayor of Toronto, and a number y specialized speakers and presenters who addressed a of topics related to "The Great Divide" various conflicts and ll over the globe. International day, one of the highlights of ol year, is a day for every student to experience a bit of a t culture, be it through song and dance, or by tasting the s of foreign and exotic nations. This year our food sales were uccess with almost everyone selling out! We raised nearly two d dollars, the majority being donated to Kiva, a micro-credit tion that provides financial loans to people throughout Africa a who have no access to the traditional bankingsystem. For us, though, it's the weekly guest speakers who make the club s. The variety of people we get to hear from as well as their backgrounds makes every story unique and interesting. the ones we will remember include the European Union dor to Canada First Nations lawyer Alyssa Lombard, Oxfam politicians, journalists, Canadian soldiers who fought in stan and renowned Canadian diplomat and former Taliban Bob Fowler. All of these people have helped make us more conscious, better informed and inspired to take action.

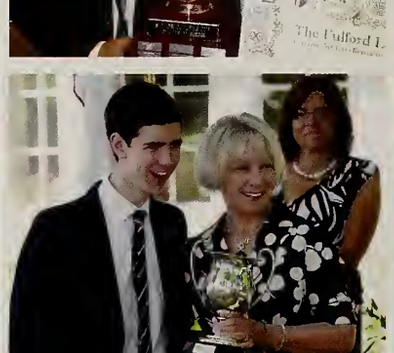

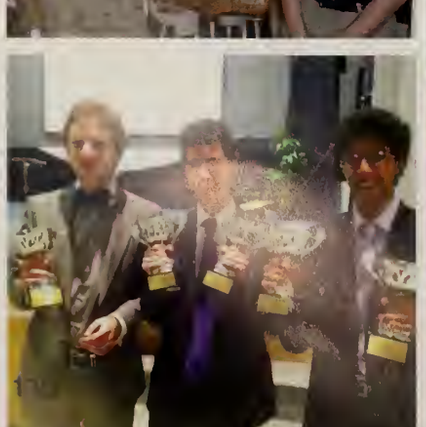

Debate & Speach

The Debate over the Ashbury Debate and Public Speaking Society

Moderator: The resolution before the house today is "This house believe Ashbury was more successful at debating than public speaking this year." start with the first speaker for the proposition.

Debater: Thank you, Mr. Moderator. Ashbury won first place overall for th in the Fulford Debate League; a league of the top 22 independent scho Ontario. There are three Fulford tournaments each year, in the fall, wint spring. The top results of Adil Abdulla, Michael Kourlas, Alex Cohen, Ch Zaphiropoulos, Salma Eldanassoury, John Venner in the Senior Division ar top wins of Conor Assheton-Smith, William Richardson, Jon Kamel, Stojanovic, Alessandro Eid-Ricci and Anthony Zhong in the Junior Division ded us the two coaches' cups. Clearly, Ashbury was far more successful at deb than public speaking this year.

Public Speaker: I beg to differ. Ashbury's success at the International Indepe Schools Public Speaking Competition in Vancouver outranks the success th Fulfords. Alex, Adil and John were all finalists with Alex nailing fi extemporaneous speaking. Surely these successes are more impressive.

Debater: Not so. Ashbury won both the Carleton University and Univer Ottawa debating tournaments. Again, Alex and Adil stealing the top prize Jon and John in the finals. And don't forget the way our all female delega Salma and Sara Eldanassoury, Olivia Le, Katie Gwozdecky, Tesnella Mend Bessie Zhang tackled the challenge of British Parliamentary debate at M Pretty amazing for the new debaters even though they were well fortifie Mr. Boulet's favorite Montreal smoked meat.

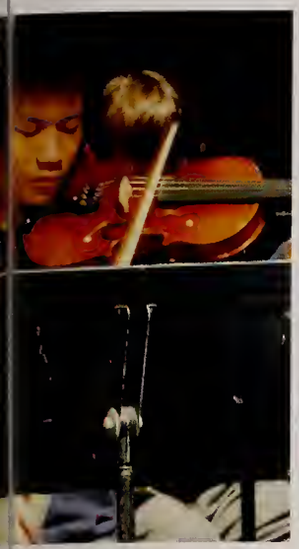

Public Speaker: Meanwhile we were taking the Toronto TEDxIB@York by with Adil's and Michael's speeches and the artwork of Christina Rizk and M Zhu displayed on the large screen.

Debater: But what about Ashbury's successes at the Ontario Student De Union's regional and provincial tournaments? We ruled the top three team once John and Bessie Zhang secured third place. Later John was in the bil finals.

Public Speaker: Is that all you can muster? At the Nora McCrae Public Sp Competition, Alex swept first place and at the Royal Canadian Legion M came in second. And look out for the Junior School because when Mr. Richa took Anthony Cui to the Junior National Public Speaking competition in C his speech on Apple Computers won the second spot in Canada.

Moderator: I have to declare this debate a draw. And who can even be measure the incredible benefits of being able to speak and debate effectiv any topic or think critically about the things that people try to tell you.

Ashbury clearly has the debate and public speaking advantage. So I congratulations are in order to the two coaches, Marilynne Sinclair an Richardson.

Reach for the Top

bury College set up the "Reach for the Top" extra-curricular activity ear. The "Reach for the Top" is a unique co-curricular team petition in which students from hundreds of schools across Canada ipate in competitions in order to qualify for the provincial pionships. The Ashbury team comprised of a dynamic group of ited members including Konner Fung Kee Fung, Anita Popescu, as Gow, Alexander Cohen, Al Mahdi Ebsim and John Venner. Every r, during lunch the group met for student-led practice sessions in order pare for the regional league tournaments. Despite being new to this petition, the Ashbury College team performed impressively and ed closely behind regional champions like Lisgar, Earl of March and iale – who made it to the provincial championship held in Toronto.
tivity proved to be an excellent opportunity for Ashbury students to te their leadership, public speaking, and team-building skills. nts considering a future career in politics, foreign services, and national business are strongly the urged to participate in this activity.
you to Ms. Ajmiri for supporting the team as staff advisor.

Model United Nations

odel United Nations (MUN) Club is held every Monday during lunch the guidance of Ms. Wright. Throughout the year, we conduct ch on international issues and then enlarge our understanding of issues through group discussions and debate. We learn about how nited Nations works, how resolutions are drafted and study the ctives of various countries on the issues. MUN presents a great tunity to augment public speaking skills and critical thinking.

ving the tradition of previous years, 11 students represented Ashbury l National High School MUN Conference in New York City. There approximately 3,000 delegates from countries all over the world pating in this conference. Individually or in groups of two, we ented Sao Tome and Principe – which are two small islands off the of West Africa – in the General Assembly while Adil Abdulla ented Luxembourg on the European Commission and Michael s represented the EU on AMISOM. In committee sizes ranging from , we discussed about different issues affecting the world, debated on le solutions, and produced resolution papers, following real life dures. On the last day of the three day conference, we were given the e to visit and vote on our resolutions in the United Nations uarters. This was incredible! The conference was conducted in such essional and realistic way that we got a taste of what it feels to be a nat.

perience in New York City was amazing and unforgettable. When re not working, we toured around the city, shopped, visited the e State building, Rockefeller Centre, the Brooklyn bridge, Times e, saw a musical on Broadway, and much more. Thank your Ms. t and Mr. Putt for making this trip possible and making the year a s.

Retirements

MRS. JAN MATTHEWS

Jan Matthews is retiring from a 30-year teaching career in the Peel and East York Boards, at Lakefield College, Albert College, and for the last 11 years at Ashbury teaching Physical Education and Careers. Jan helped develop the experiential Grade 11 P.E. program, promoted the Party Education program, offered a popular community yoga program and coached cross-country.

ssion for alpine skiing saw the team grow to 45 students with le OFSAA medals together with world high school competitions in , Italy and Andorra. As Round Square Coordinator, Jan has promoted Square values, student exchanges, conferences and service trips are life changing experiences for our students. Jan has been a healthy emplary role model for our students and attended and hosted many ry events. She is starting a new career teaching yoga, leading service nd, of course, teaching skiing.

MRS. DONNA CHAN

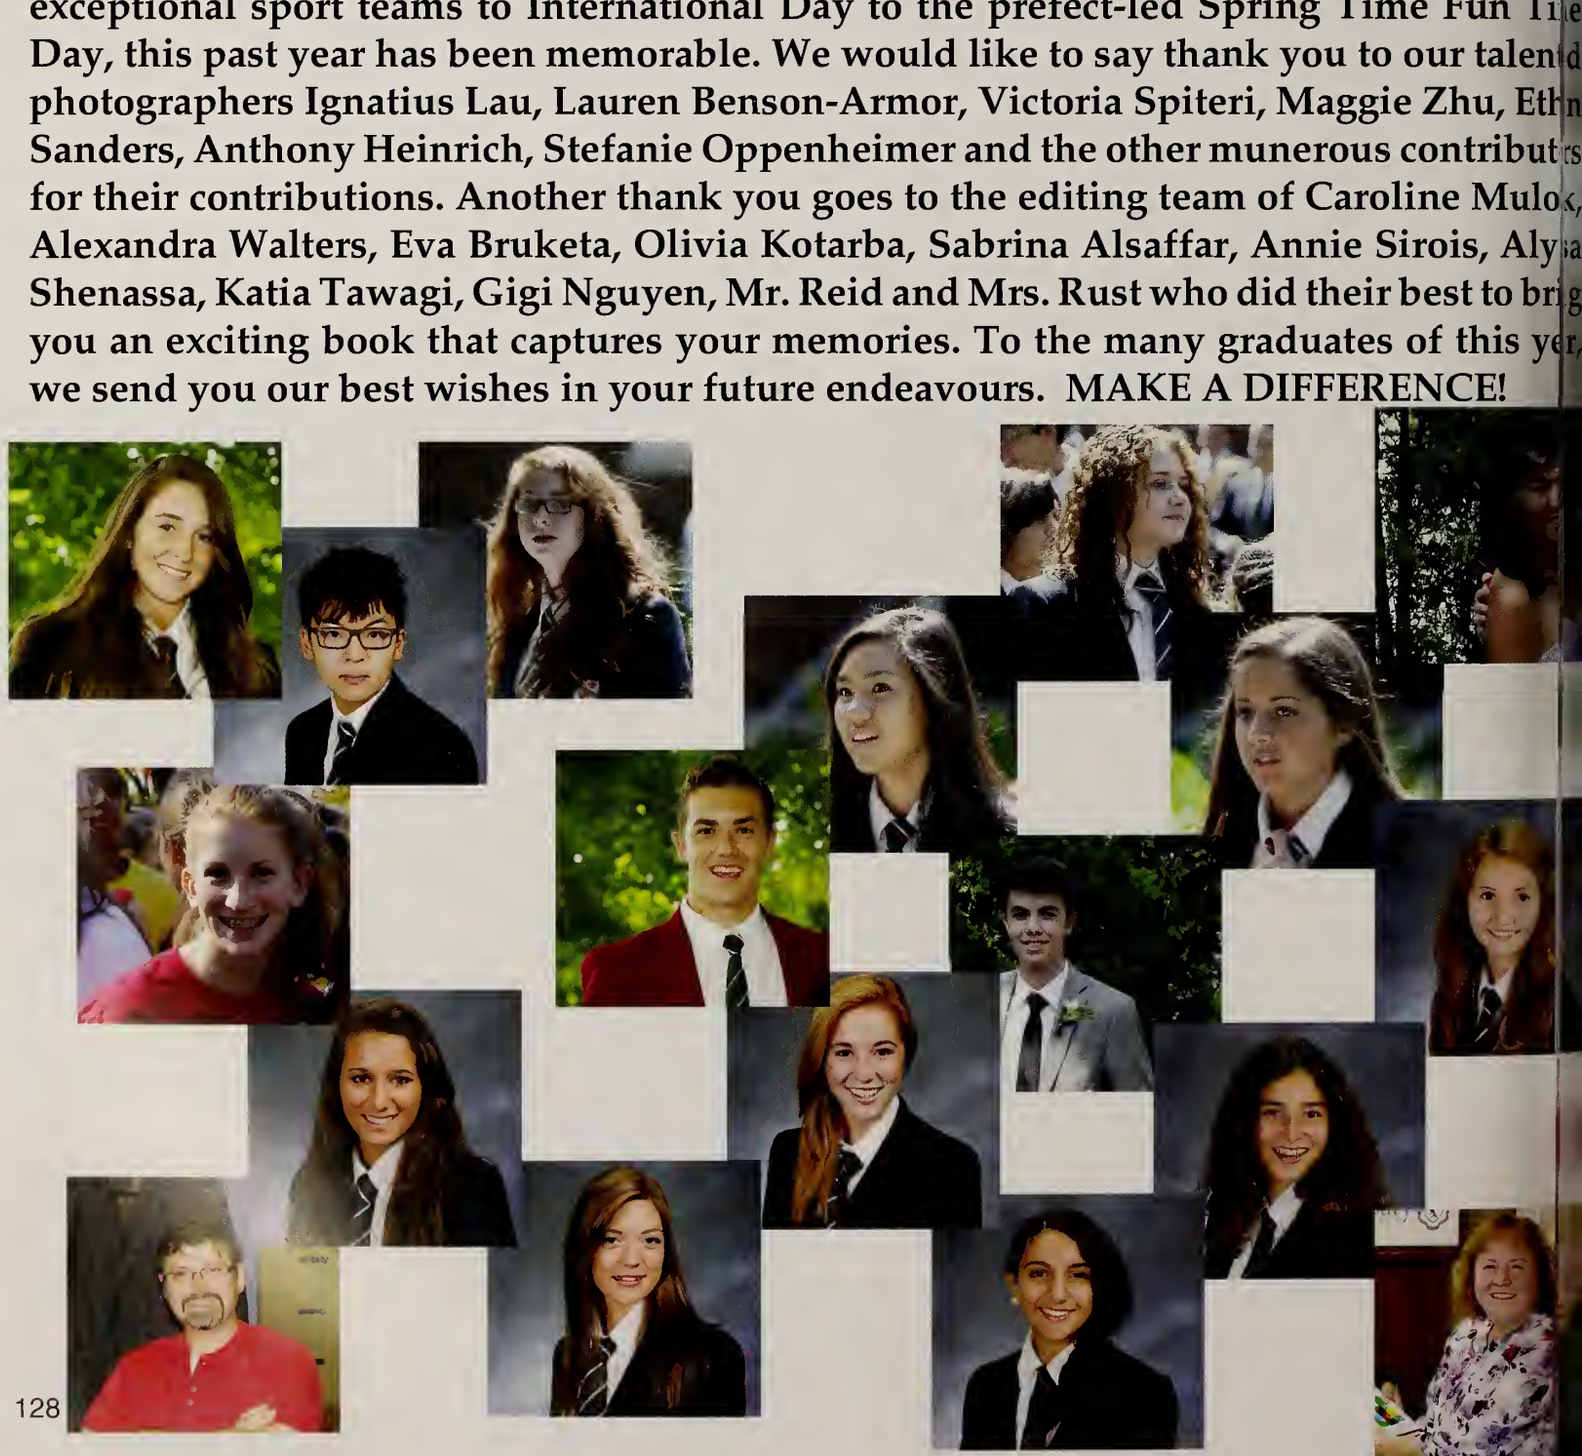

Donna Chan is retiring after four years at Ashbury where she transformed our library to be a welcoming, active, collaborative learning hub. She taught in Saskatchewan, B.C., Ontario, Norway, Mexico, U.S. and Australia.

Donna, with her library team, culled and restocked our 15,000 book collection responding to teacher requests, new curriculum and new database options. Our student-centred library is a source of pride. Donna's intellect, kindness and active participation in school life earned her the admiration of students and faculty alike. She taught the IB Extended Essay training sessions, ran Ashbury's Youth-to-Youth service program with the Inuit Community Centre, coached golf and was an Advisor. Happily, she has played an invaluable role in shaping the flexible, open design of the new Creative Learning Centre.

The Yearbook Team 2011-2012

This year's theme for the yearbook is "Make A Difference". This year was filled wh Ashbury students and staff making a difference in our immediate community and ar surrounding community. There were many fund-raising events, like Monte Carlo Nig – a student-run initiative raising $21K for the Do-It-For-Daron Foundation and Roud Square service project materials, United Way with a school record of $32,000 and a Grae 11 Student Community Builder Award, The Boys and Girls Club, Christie Lake Kis, Ottawa Hospital, Oxfam, Snowsuit Fund, Operation Come Home and so many other you focused causes receiving the students' time, effort and caring. From the Musical to ar exceptional sport teams to International Day to the prefect-led Spring Time Fun Tie Day, this past year has been memorable. We would like to say thank you to our talentd photographers Ignatius Lau, Lauren Benson-Armor, Victoria Spiteri, Maggie Zhu, Ethn Sanders, Anthony Heinrich, Stefanie Oppenheimer and the other munerous contributrs for their contributions. Another thank you goes to the editing team of Caroline Mulos, Alexandra Walters, Eva Bruketa, Olivia Kotarba, Sabrina Alsaffar, Annie Sirois, Alysa Shenassa, Katia Tawagi, Gigi Nguyen, Mr. Reid and Mrs. Rust who did their best to brig you an exciting book that captures your memories. Mixing and Meeting

Lots of special activities in the first week in September helped everyone feel familiar with the school and make new friends. Students grouped themselves into multi-age teams within each house to complete the annual back-to-school scavenger hunt. We also enjoyed a bar-b-que lunch at the end of the week.
So when exactly IS Mr. Storosko's birthday??

Camp Otterdale

Once again, grade seven students spent three action-packed days at Camp Otterdale getting to know each other, and came back with new friends and great memories!

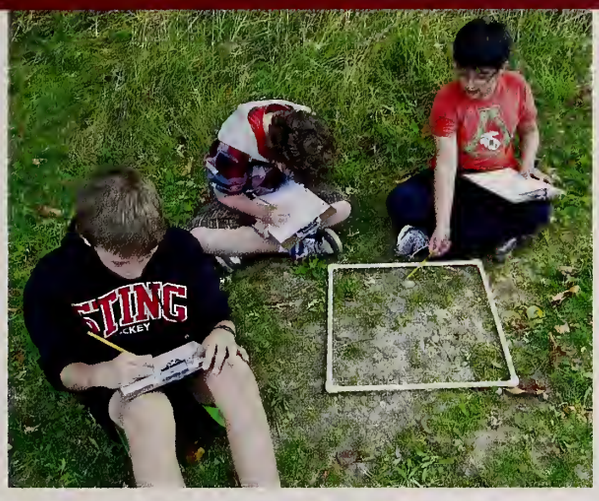

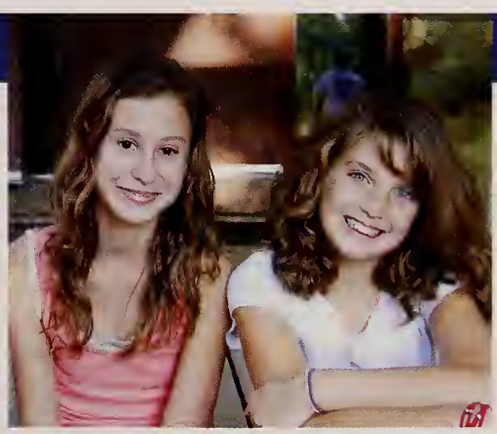

Quebec City

Le voyage à la ville de Québec a encore été un succès cette année.

Le programme? des journées remplies d'activités pour (re)visiter notre passé et origines, des repas délicieux et conviviaux et des élèves qui parlent le français et se font de nouveaux amis !

Merci à nos élèves et professeurs-accompagnateurs !

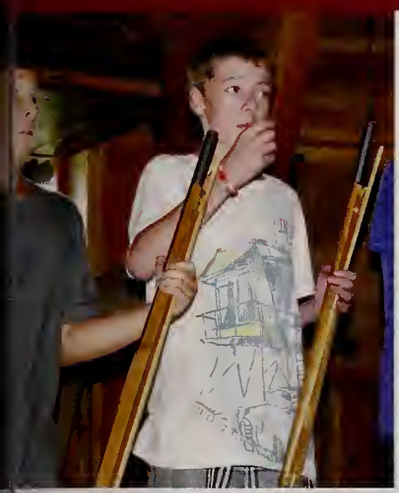

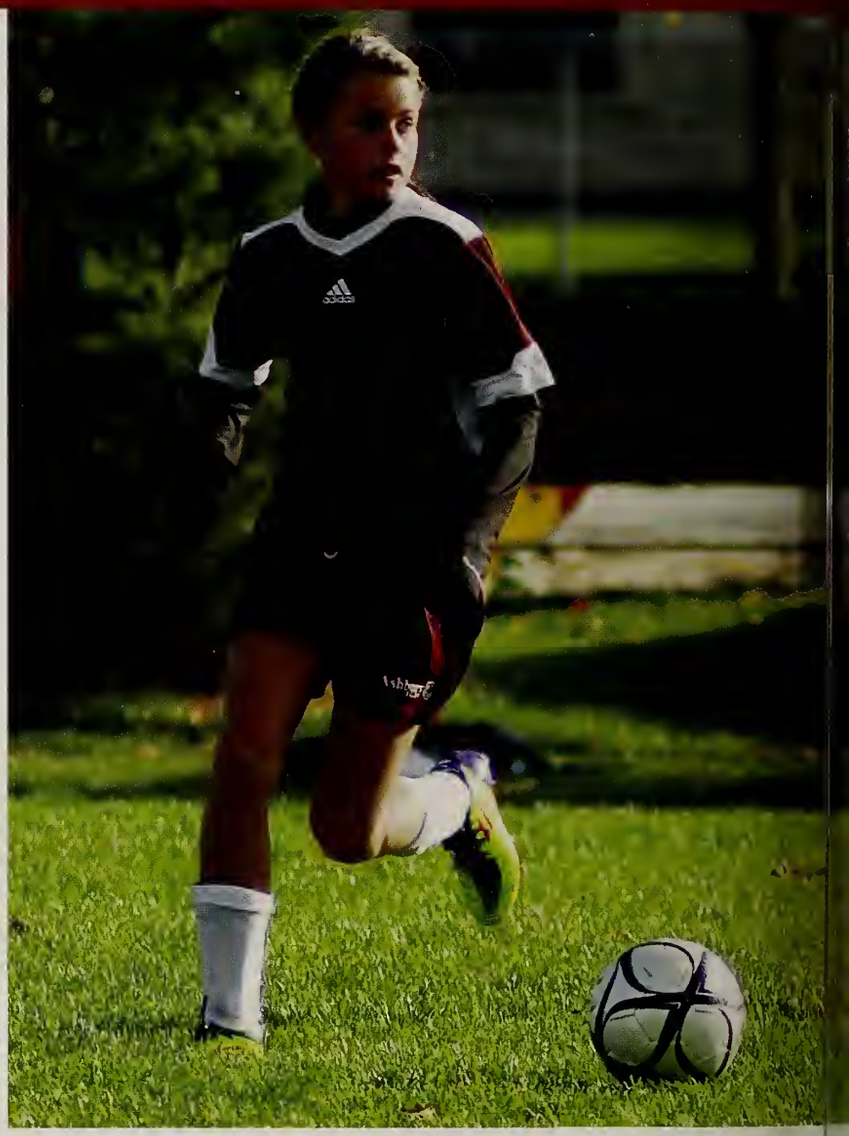

Fall Sports

The Ashbury Junior School goes soccer crazy in the fall with boys' and girls' teams competing at various levels. There are also a lot of fun soccer matches throughout our Games program and during the Fall Olympics.

In addition to soccer, there were both tennis and Ultimate frisbee events during the Fall Olympics.

Which House Will Win?

The fierce competition between the Dragons, Goblins, Hobbits, and Wizards still burns brightly in the Junior School. We have all watched the bulletin board carefully as we fought for our hard-earned house points. The race was very close this year with a 3 point difference between the top two teams. In the end, the Dragons came away with the coveted pins for their blazers.

St. Donat

Si vous avez besoin des journées ensoleillées hivernales, les activités d'hiver comme le patinage, le ski alpin, la raquette et les légendes québécoises plus des moniteurs exceptionnels pour un superbe voyage à Saint Donat alors les 7e années ont eu un excellent voyage cette année ! En plus un jour à Montréal pour découvrir les origines de la ville et de la culture montréalaise nous a fait un grand plaisir. Avec plus de 50 élèves et 4 professeurs le voyage était une belle expérience !

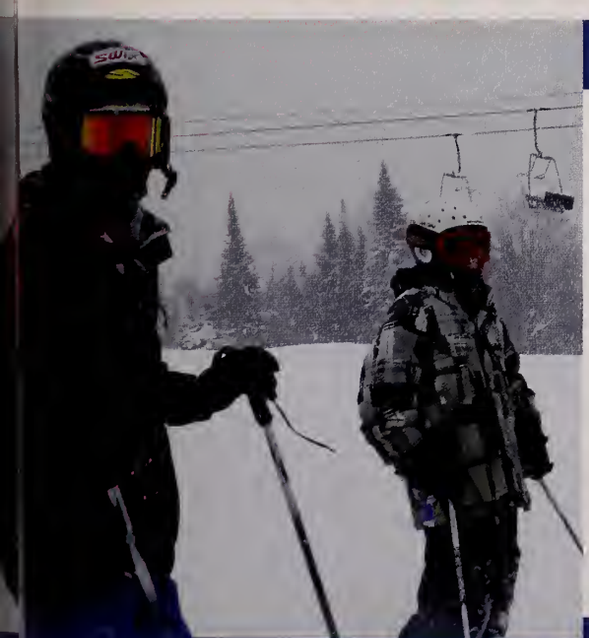

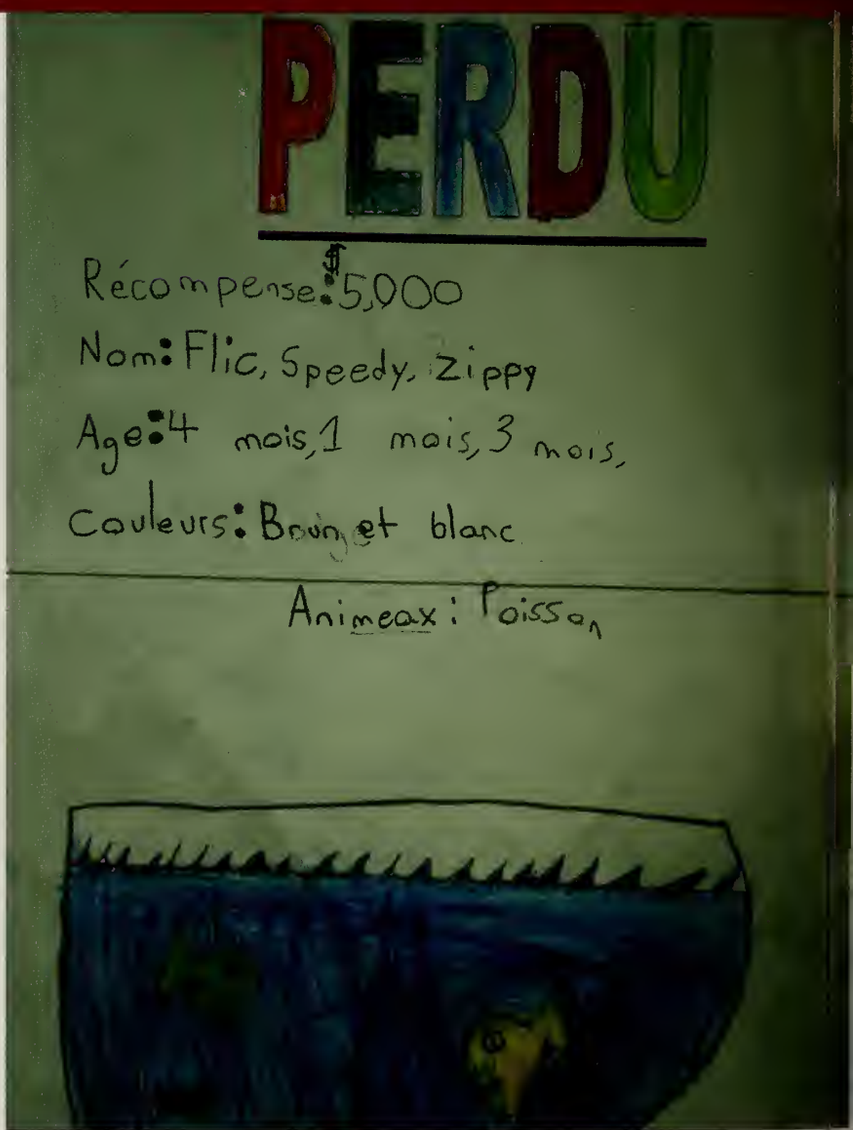

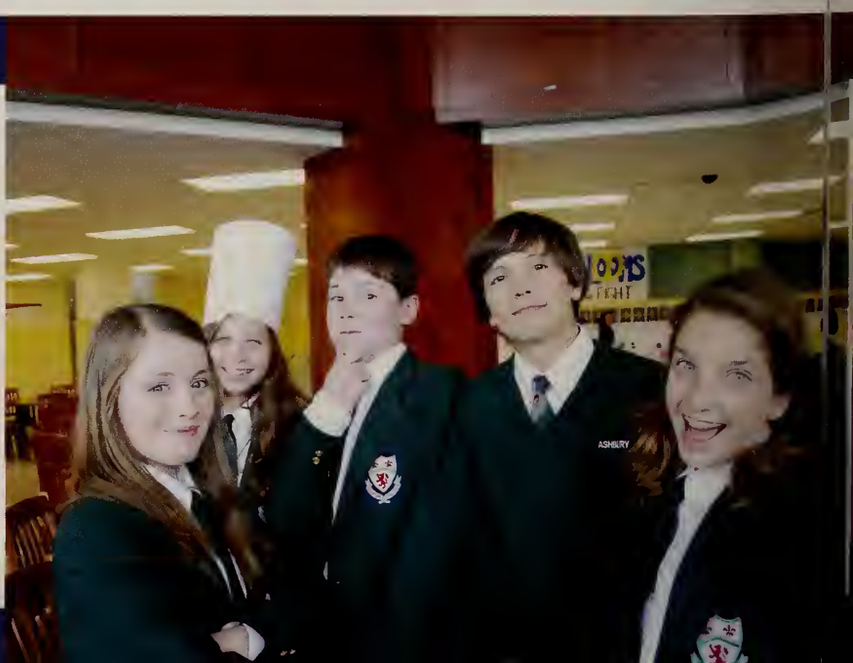

En Français

As we are situated in the Nation's Capital, bilingualism is a priority in the Junior School. We practice our French at school in our classes, on our great trips to St. Donat and Quebec City, at the Café Français, and also in the halls with our many bilingual teachers. Comme vous voyez on s'amuse beaucoup en français à Ashbury!

Spirit Week

As usual, the Junior School had a blast during our annual Spirit Week. Monday morning had us all confused with our clothes on backwards. Tuesday we showed our pride with the bright vibrant house colours. Wednesday we had a lot more girls and some very well-dressed boys. The last day, Thursday, went off with a bang as we all shared a glimpse of our future selves.

Green Living

In September, we celebrated the grand opening of the green roof. Students picked basil and leeks on the roof which were then used in our cafeteria food. By spring, students returned to the roof playing green games for Earth Week and planting fruit and vegetables. They also heard a presentation by Earth Rangers on animal protection for which they donated money from their Awesome Auction. In April, Elizabeth May spoke to us about environmental activism. And in June, the club participated in a documentary on green roofs in Ottawa.

Science and Technology

This year, students spent a lot of time hypothesizing, building, and testing. Concrete boats, containers for the Egg Drop, windmills, cranes and bridges are just some of the projects our students created in science this year. The grade sevens also participated in the Junior School Science Symposium and welcomed visitors to view their work. As you can see, science in the Junior School is "hands-on"!

This year the Junior School was very happy to have four ensembles participate at the Capital Region Musicfest: the Brass Quintet, Junior Winds, Junior Concert Band, and the Junior Jazz Band. Their effort this past year was well received by the adjudicators, parents, and the rest of the Junior School. All the ensembles received a Silver rating at Musicfest and were extremely active in the school culture by playing at the Gordon Harrison Art Gallery (Brass Quintet), House Music and International Day (Jazz Band), and the SPARK campaign launch (Concert Band).

Spring Activities

Our third term is always action-packed. This year during term three, students played rugby, rode bicycles, launched rockets, hatched chicks, welcomed grandparents, danced, sang, and had a great time.

Speaking Out & Acting Up

Ashburians definitely enjoy speaking out and acting up. Always up for a silly costume and an entertaining script, we enjoy reenacting historical moments and also our favourite scenes from "The Hobbit", "Macbeth", and "Hamlet". Grades four through eight students also prepare a speech for the annual Public Speaking Competition. The plays put on by grades 5 and 6 were a big success on Grandparents Day.

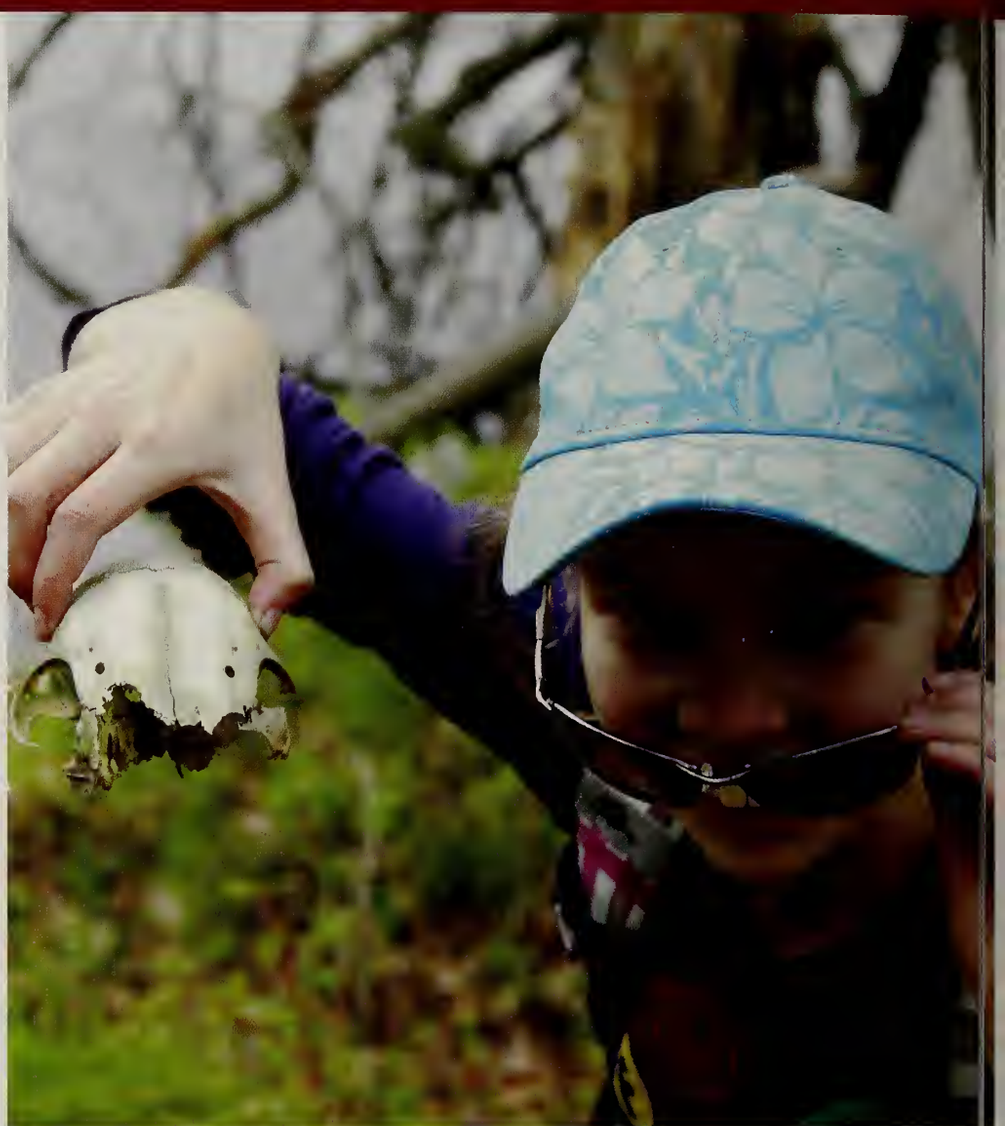

ISES

We are very privileged in the Junior School to have the opportunity to visit the International School for Earth Studies in Ladysmith, Québec. This year we were able to canoe, hike, track animals, snowshoe, dogsled, build quinzhee huts, meet a bear, start fires, build shelters, and develop our survival skills.

At Closing, we said goodbye to Mr. Alex Menzies, who retired after teaching at Ashbury College for 32 years. During that time, he taught in the Senior School, was a boarding master and choir master, as well as a math, science and drama teacher in the Junior School. Mr. Menzies always had the most beautful classroom, where his students helped him nurture his amazing collection of plants and fish. He will be remembered for his thoughtful and caring interactions with his students and his colleagues.

Enjoy your retirement, Mr. Menzies!
